ACLL/ACTC 2012 Letter of Welcome
From the ACLL/ACTC 2012 Conference Chair

It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the Second Asian Conference on Language Learning and the Second Asian Conference on Technology in the Classroom. A few minutes of thumbing through the conference handbook (a work of art in and of itself) will allow you to see we are in for two very packed days. IAFOR, the International Academic Forum, has once again done what it does best—bring together academics, scholars and practitioners representing an exciting diversity of countries, cultures, and religion to exchange ideas and views in a forum encouraging respectful dialogue.

With our dual conference themes (Globalization, Culture and Society: What role does language play? / Learning, Culture and Society: What role can technology play?) we have a full slate of presentations that in addition to examining the affect language learning has on our cultures and societies, will also examine the role of technology and its impact on our classrooms.

In addition to the many varied parallel sessions scheduled, we have the privilege of listening to two great keynotes starting with my colleague and good friend, Deryn Verity's Beyond Borders: Language Education and Identity and Barbara Lockee's (a professor at one of my alma maters—Go Tech!) Moving Forward through Looking Back: A Historical Analysis of Instructional Technology for Language Learning. And we also have three featured speaker sessions by Marjo Mitsutomi, Kuniko Miyanaga, and Jo Mynard to look forward to.

I also would like to welcome you to Osaka, one of Japan's truly great cities and my home for the last 17 years. Osaka is a city I really love for many reasons and so over the course of the conference I hope in addition to participating in some exciting academic exchanges, you will also have the opportunity to sample some of the delicious cuisine available here, and possibly, even visit some famous sites such as Osaka Castle (a 20 minute subway ride from the Ramada Hotel) or even take a side trip to Kyoto (35 minutes away).

ACLL 2012/ACTC 2012 affords us the opportunity for renewing old acquaintances, making new contacts, and networking across higher education and beyond. I am excited that it is finally here; let the conferencing begin!

Happy Conferencing!

Steve Cornwell

ACLL/ACTC 2012 Conference Chair

ACLL/ACTC 2012 Letter of Welcome
From the Executive Director of IAFOR

Dear Delegates,

Welcome to the Second Annual Asian Conference on Language Learning, which is again to be held this year alongside the Second Asian Conference on Technology in the Classroom. We are delighted to report that the event has grown considerably since last year, when the March 2011 earthquake and its aftermath notably affected international attendance, and are equally proud to contribute to, and participate in Japan's recovery.

IAFOR conferences are interdisciplinary international conferences that invite academics, practitioners, scholars and researchers from around the world to meet and exchange ideas. The programme for this conference promises to be an exciting one, with thematic topics that address the central aim of the conference in different but complementary ways, including through papers that draw on empirical research, that develop theoretical and conceptual insights, and that engage with pedagogy, and the experiential. The conference will be enhanced through its wide variety of presenters, who will draw on their diverse experiences and knowledges and on their academic, personal and geographical contexts, in a programme that promises stimulating and challenging discussion.

The ACLL conference theme of "Globalization, Culture and Society: What Role Does Language Play?", and the complimentary "Learning, Culture and Society: What role can technology play?" has encouraged a diverse response across a number of academic disciplines. This year, 200 delegates from more than 30 countries will come together for encounters and exchanges that are both scholarly and personal as they express differing points of view, challenge each other to think differently, and search for common ground. I have no doubt that we will all be able to use the time spent at this conference for intellectual discovery and for the development of collaborative links and connections between the researchers, academics, scholars and practitioners who are attending. We have a lot to learn from each other in this international academic forum.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank our conference chair, Steve Cornwell, who has done so much to ensure the success of this young event, and who gives up much of his year to help shape IAFOR events. Also, thanks to our great line up of keynote and featured speakers: Deryn Verity, Barbara Lockee, Kuniko Miyanaga, Marjo Mitsutomi, and Jo Mynard.

I would also like to thank Stuart Picken, chairman of the IAB, and Yoshiko Cornwell for her willingness to help with myriad requests. Finally, my thanks to each and every delegate for taking the time and making the effort to travel to Osaka. I hope you are rewarded by the conference, and by the fantastic location. I look forward to meeting you all.

Warm Regards,

Dr Joseph Haldane,
Executive Director, IAFOR

IAFOR Academic Vision & Mission

The vision of iafor grew out of the perceived need to fill a vacuum in the communication and exchange activities of the academic world. Its mission arose out of examining that space and investigating why it existed. The vacuum existed because of the lack of opportunity for serious and thoughtful exchange between academics, members of the global business community, and practitioners in the fields of human endeavor that linked these groups together. In the field of education, for example, we have academic theorists, educational managers (political decision-makers and organizational directors) and classroom teachers with their support staff in IT, library work, exchange programs, and specialist fields. But how often do they have the opportunity to interact?

Moving beyond one particular field, larger questions arise. What function should universities prioritize in the 21st century? What do businesses see as their contribution to social and global well being? How can people on the ground, trying to implement improvements that will transform human life, best be supported? And perhaps above all, what are the agendas that will drive mechanisms to enable these groups to interact effectively.

One piece of distilled thought that came from early exchanges at an iafor conference was the recognition that some of the rhetoric of concern about the problems of developing nations was perhaps over-focused on the term "poverty" because it can be defined only in a relative way. "Hunger" was put forward as being more immediate and itself a contributory factor to poverty, rather than the other way round. One key to the hunger issue could be the provision of safe drinking water, or water for irrigation in some contexts, while flood management might be necessary elsewhere. These, in and by themselves become valuable only insofar as they help to relieve hunger in specific contexts.

iafor is affording opportunities that do not exist elsewhere. The base is Osaka, Japan's great commercial and manufacturing hub, one symbol of the emerging Pacific economy that in time will eclipse the long dominant Atlantic zone. iafor conferences present those taking part with three unique dimensions of experience. First of all, it encourages interdisciplinary activity to be expanded. Depending on the field, this can face varying degrees of difficulty, ranging from discouragement to downright prohibition. Those overly dependent on fixed academic structures often see lateral thinking as a threat. None of these negatives apply in iafor. Its purpose is to generate new approaches that cross any disciplinary lines. The principle employed is to let the imagination permit intuitive responses to questions. There are no panels of critics. There are simply people who want to listen and reflect. The model of academic work as potholing is replaced by the metaphor of mountaineering. While respecting the need for solid and well-founded academic work, we feel the need to go beyond it from time to time to discover fresh approaches to old questions.

Secondly, it facilitates the heightening of intercultural awareness. Again, iafor encourages innovation through cross-cultural perception. Cultural roots influence people in their attitudes more than most would realize or admit. The need to see and internalize insights gained from other viewpoints is met by a process of steady illumination.

Thirdly, it promotes the broadening of international exchange. We may live in a globalized world, but in reality parochialism still holds sway. The collapse of the U.S.S.R and the break-up of Yugoslavia led to the re-establishment of numerous former countries. While this may be desirable for the peoples concerned, it merely adds to the world's cultural confusion. Exchange leads to explanation and that helps the growth of intercultural awareness.

iafor makes all of these developments possible in one gathering. An iafor conference is not a substitute for specialist conferences. It is intended to be an alternative that functions as a balance or even a corrective to the extreme tendencies that can arise from more narrowly defined research parameters. In short, iafor is promoting and facilitating a new multifaceted approach to one of the core issues of our time, namely globalization and its many forms of growth and expansion. Awareness of how it cuts across the worlds of business, and academia, along with its impact on societies and institutions is one of the driving forces that has given iafor its momentum and is making it a pioneer in this global age.

The Reverend Professor Stuart D. B. Picken,
Order of the Sacred Treasure, M.A. (Hons), B.D., Ph.D., F.R.A.S.
Chairman of the International Advisory Board

General Information for Conference Participants

Information and Registration

The ACLL/ACTC Registration and Information Desk will be situated in the Kiku base room on the second floor of the hotel throughout the conference. If you have already paid online, or by bank transfer, you will be able to pick up your registration pack. This will include a tote bag, the ACLL/ACTC 2012 programme, and your official certificate of attendance and receipt of payment (on the same sheet). At this time you will also be given a name card, and lanyard.

For those people wishing to pay on the day, please note that we will not be able to process credit cards.

Conference Opening and Keynote Speaker Session: Friday 9:00-12:00

The Plenary session will be held in two parts: on Friday morning from 9:00-12:00, and on Friday afternoon, from 16:30-18:00. The Plenary session will be in the Sakura Function Room (Next to the Kiku base room on the second floor). Please arrive in good time if you wish to attend the session.

Concurrent Speaker Sessions

Concurrent Sessions will run on Friday and Saturday. These are generally organized into thematic streams. Sessions are usually 90 minutes in length, and normally include three presenters. Each presenter has thirty minutes including Q and A time. Exceptionally there may be four presenters to a session, and the session length is increased accordingly.

Presentations and Equipment

All rooms will be equipped with a MacBook computer pre-installed with Powerpoint, as well as a screen and an LCD projector. If you wish you may directly link your own PC laptop, although we advise you to use the computer provided by plugging in your USB. We recommend that you bring two copies of your presentation in the case that one fails, and suggest sending yourself the presentation by email as a third and final precaution.

Session Chairs

Session Chairs are expected to introduce themselves and other speakers (briefly), and ensure that the session begins and ends on time, and that the time is divided fairly between the presentations (see below). Each presenter should have no less than 30 minutes in which to present his or her paper, and respond to any questions. We recommend 20 minutes for your paper and 10 minutes for Q and A. Please follow the order in the programme, and if for any reason a presenter fails to show, please keep to the original timeslots as delegates use the programme to plan their attendance.

A Polite Request to All Participants

Participants are requested to arrive in a timely fashion for all addresses, whether to their own, or to those of other presenters. Presenters are reminded that the time slots should be divided fairly and equally between the number of presentations, and that they should not overrun. The session chair is asked to assume this timekeeping role.

Poster Sessions & Poster Requirements

All Poster Sessions will be held in the Kiku base room.

The poster frames are B1 and so it is recommended that posters be no larger than B1 (707mm x 1000mm/27.8 inches x 39.4 inches). A1 (594mm x 841mm/23.4 inches x 39.4 inches) would also be fine. If your poster is outsized, then we will be able to provide double sided and normal tape.

Internet

There will be wireless connection throughout most of the second and third floors.

For your convenience, there will also be a limited number of computers wired up to the Internet in the Kiku base room.

Badges

When you check in, you will receive a conference package, which includes your name badge. Wearing your badge IS required for entrance to the sessions. If you lose your badge it can be replaced for a fee of JPY 5000. You must wear your badge at all times during the Conference.

If you are not wearing your badge, security will stop you and ask you to show your ID and evidence that you are registered. Those unable to show proof will be escorted from the Conference by security.

There are (4) colors of badges indicating the type of conference participant:

RED: Presenters and General Audience

BLUE: Conference Exhibitors and Affiliates

YELLOW: Keynote and Featured Speakers

BLACK: IAFOR Staff & Board Members

What to Wear & Bring

Attendees generally wear business casual attire. You may want to bring along a light jacket or sweater, as the temperature in meeting rooms is often difficult to control.

Security

The Japanese police have been enforcing random passport and identification checks. If you do not have identification when stopped, the police will detain you. There may also be a financial penalty. For the enjoyment of all participants, inappropriate behavior will not be tolerated and violators will be removed from the premises. Do not leave personal items or conference bags unattended anywhere in the Ramada Osaka Hotel as this will be taken away by security.

Smoking

The Ramada has implemented a Clean Indoor Air Act; therefore, smoking is not permitted in any of the conference rooms or the ballroom. Please smoke only in designated areas. There is a smoking room on the second floor at the top of the escalators.

There will be photography, audio and video recording at the conference. By entering the event premises you give consent to the use of your photograph, likeness or video or audio recording in whole or in part without restriction or limitation for any educational, promotional, or any purpose for distribution.

Refreshment Breaks

Complimentary coffee, tea, and light snacks will be provided twice a day, for one hour periods in the middle of the morning and then again in the afternoon. All other meals, including lunch and dinner, can be purchased at any of the restaurants or convenience stores in and around the Ramada Osaka.

Meals & Drinks

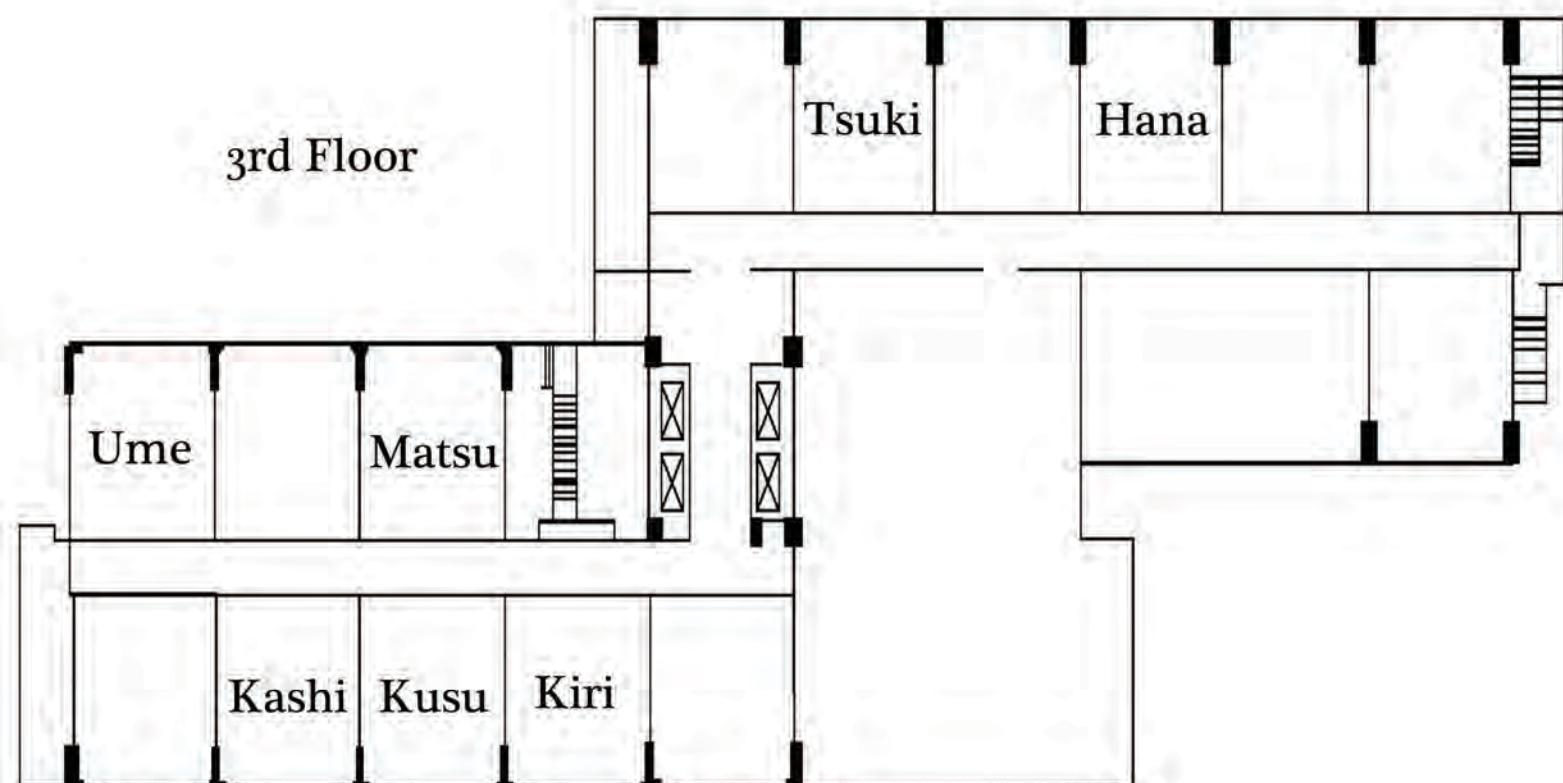

As a conference registrant, if you booked through the conference site and if you are staying at the Ramada then the buffet breakfast is included in your room price. This is a good occasion to start the day and meet other delegates. You must book through the Ramada to enjoy this arrangement.

20% Off Food and Drink

Conference Delegates are entitled to a 20% discount at the Neuf-Neuf Dining and Café (breakfast, lunch and dinner), The Tenzan teppan-yaki (lunch and dinner), the Lampada Restaurant (lunch and dinner) and très très bon (lunch and dinner). Just show your badge to receive this discount.

Keynote & Featured Speakers

Deryn Verity

ACLL Keynote Speaker
Friday – 9:15-10:00 (Sakura Room)

Beyond Borders: Language Education and Identity

Dr. Deryn P. Verity is a Professor in the Department of International & English Interdisciplinary Studies at Osaka Jogakuin University. She has lived and worked in Japan, Poland, Serbia, Slovenia, Thailand, and her own country, the United States of America. She teaches teachers Pedagogical Grammar, SLA, and other courses in two MATESOL programs based in New York City, and believes that teacher education is crucial to the future of higher education. Her interests lie in sociocultural theory and its application to pedagogy.

Barbara B. Lockee

ACTC Keynote Speaker
Friday – 11:15-12:00 (Sakura Room)

Moving Forward through Looking Back: A Historical Analysis of Instructional Technology for Language Learning

Dr Lockee is Professor of Instructional Design and Technology at Virginia Tech., USA, where she is also Associate Director of the School of Education and Associate Director of Educational Research and Outreach. She teaches courses in instructional design, message design, and distance education. Her research interests focus on instructional design issues related to technology-mediated learning. She has published more than 80 papers in academic journals, conferences and books, and has presented her scholarly work at over 90 national and international conferences. Dr. Lockee is Immediate Past President of the Association for Educational Communications and Technology, an international professional organization for educational technology researchers and practitioners. She earned her Ph.D. in 1996 from Virginia Tech in Curriculum and Instruction (Instructional Technology), M.A. in 1991 from Appalachian State University in Curriculum and Instruction (Educational Media), and B.A. in 1986 from Appalachian State University in Communication Arts.

Marjo Mitsutomi

ACLL Featured Speaker

Friday – 17:15-18:00 (Sakura Room)

Globalization, Culture & Society:
What Role does Language NOT play?

Marjo Mitsutomi is Head of English Language Teaching Practices and the Language Development Intercultural Studies Center Akita International University, Japan. Previous to her current position at Akita, she was an Associate Professor in the School of Education at Redlands University California. Marjo Mitsutomi earned her doctorate from Ball State University in applied linguistics and teaching English as a second language. She has taught and directed programs in English to speakers of other languages both in American and Japanese institutions of higher education. She has been instrumental through her collaborative research and professional presentations working with the International Aviation Association and the Federal Aviation Association to create regulations and criteria for certification to establish the level of proficiency in English necessary for all pilots. Her collaborative research projects relate to issues of second language and culture acquisition.

Kuniko Miyanaga

ACLL Featured Speaker

Friday – 10:30-12:15 (Sakura Room)

Globalization, Culture and Society

Kuniko Miyanaga is a cultural anthropologist and linguist and works on questions of globalization, identity and language. She has taught at the International Christian University in Tokyo (1974-2002), and in 2005 she joined the faculty at Tama University where she is now Professor of Anthropology, having served a term as Dean of the School. She has taught for periods abroad at the University of British Columbia, Canada, and was a Fulbright Scholar at St Michaels College, VT, USA. Professor Miyanaga has also been a Visiting Scholar at the universities of Boston, Harvard, and Stanford in the USA, and Oxford in the UK through the Japan Foundation. She is the founding director of the Human Potential Institute NPO.

Jo Mynard

ACTC Featured Speaker
Friday – 16:30-17:15

Raising Awareness of Learning Processes with Technology Tools

Jo Mynard is the Director of the Self-Access Learning Centre and Assistant Director of the English Language Institute at Kanda University of International Studies in Japan. She holds an Ed.D. in TEFL from the University of Exeter, UK and an M.Phil. in applied linguistics from Trinity College, Dublin. She is originally from Wales, but has lived and worked in various countries including Spain, the UAE and Japan. Her areas of professional interest are computer-assisted language learning, learner autonomy, self-access and advising in language learning. She was the convener of the conference “Advising for language learner autonomy” held at Kanda University of International Studies in Japan in November 2011 and is the co-editor of the volume “Advising in language learning: Dialogue, tools and context” to be published by Longman, UK in April, 2012. She is the editor of Studies in Self-Access Learning Journal and the founder of The Learning Hub Consultancy.

Steve Cornwell

ACLL/ACTC Conference Chair
Friday – Welcome Address & Saturday – Closing Address

Steve Cornwell is Professor of English and Interdisciplinary Studies at Osaka Jogakuin College, and also teaches on the MATESOL program for the New School at NYU. He holds an MFA from Virginia Tech, and an Ed.D. from Temple University.

Professor Cornwell is Director of Program for the Japan Association of Language Teachers (JALT), and a member of their National Board of Directors. He is also a former editor of the JALT journal. An American who has made Osaka his home, Steve also chaired the inaugural ACLL/ACTC event last year, and is a member of IAFOR's IAB.

The logo for the International Association for Frontiers in Research (iafor) is centered on the page. It features the word "iafor" in a light blue, lowercase, sans-serif font. The text is enclosed within a large, stylized circular graphic composed of two concentric, slightly irregular arcs. The upper arc is a light red color, and the lower arc is a light blue color, matching the text. The overall design is minimalist and modern.

The International Academic Forum

IAFOR conferences are organized in affiliation with some of the world's best known universities, organizations, and corporations, working in partnership to bring you events and speakers that challenge and stimulate; inform and inspire.

Our events are celebrations of the international, the intercultural, and the interdisciplinary, where speakers from different backgrounds express divergent views, search for common ground, and look for the synergies that can lead to multi-disciplinary collaborations.

An IAFOR conference is interesting, informative, and provides a great opportunity to network, forge friendships, and meet academics from around the world.

Whether you are a senior academic in search of inspiration, or a junior researcher in need of direction, our events encourage an atmosphere of dialogue and exchange in a relaxed and supportive academic environment.

IAFOR is very happy to have its conferences based in the great trading city of Osaka, known as the Japan's kitchen, an amazing city to explore, and one just a short journey from the ancient capitals of Nara and Kyoto.

We hope you enjoy the Conference!
